"Let's get Real About Alternatives to Capitalism"

Friday July 11 2008 - London Conway Hall (Bertrand Russell Room)Â Â

"Let's Get Real About Alternatives to Capitalism"

Is the assertion that "another world is possible" just an empty wish?

Marx theorized that capitalism is unstable and transitory, but a century and a half later, the concept of socialism is widely considered to be dead.

Is it then the primary task of revolutionaries today to theorize how an alternative to capitalism could really work?

SPEAKERS:

Andrew Kliman, author of Reclaiming Marx's 'Capital'

Anne Jaclard, feminist writer and member of the Marxist-Humanist Committee in the U.S.

Organised by Hobgoblin (online journal) and the London Corresponding Committee.

8.00 -10 p.m. All welcome.

Conway Hall, 25 Red Lion Square, London WC1 (nearest tube: Holborn)
