"beauty is the best weapon we've got. It's the one thing that the powers can't replicate."

Jamie Reid - quoted by Richard Cabut in 3-Am Magazine

Jamie Reid is best known for his collage work that brought him fame in the punk explosion with such iconic pieces as 'God Save The Queen' for the The Sex Pistols. Since then he has constantly experimented with form and content, and produced works that redefine contemporary art practice. Whilst forging his own path, his art has always been informed by his political and spiritual beliefs.
