

Table of Contents

falling somewhere in-between 1

falling somewhere in-between

A border in-between two or more things that is hard to define or even impossible to define and the distinction border tends to move. The possibility that a thing can become different and at the same time remain the same.