2005 was the year of the oil company with many of these companies posting record profits. 2006 has been the year of alternative fuels with companies involved in this sector blowing off the charts. This trend shows no signs of abating.

Our next feature is right in the thick of the high-growth alternative energy sector and they are doing incredible things.

AlgoDyne Ethanol Energy

Symbol: ADYN

Current Price: $1.30

Short Term Target: $3.50

Long Term Projected: $10.00

It doesn't take a genius to know why alternative energy is such a high-growth area right now. Smart traders know how to watch global trends and seize the moment.

AlgoDyne is where it's at. AlgoDyne has developed a turnkey solution in their proprietary micro-algae based process which can produce direct electricity, eco-friendly fuels, and valuable bi-products.

The company has just hit its sweet spot in the development phase and is set to release some astounding results. These revelations are being backed up by a far-reaching PR campaign.

It is essential to get in early in order to enjoy the biggest gains. Come Tuesday, December 26th this one will be rapidly going up to meet our target price!

Do not delay! Win with ADYN!
