Hi Openlabbers, don't know how many of you are Hackney based, and furthermore how many would be interested in an event like this but get in touch if you'd like to come. I think it will be a certain kind of fun.

Best,
Heather

HACKNEY NEW MEDIA NETWORKING AFTERNOON

When: Tuesday 30th January, 2-6pm

Where: Space Media Arts, 129-131 Mare Street, London E8 3RH

Do you live or work in Hackney?

Do you work with new media, web, creative technology, computers, electronics or related fields?

Be inspired by your neighbours in the borough!

[space.media.arts] in partnership with Hackney Council invite you to a networking session for a diverse range of creative practitioners, including artists, community media groups, SMEs and larger companies, working in new and creative media in Hackney. Promote yourself and what you do, find out what others are working on and develop links between your projects and organisations.

You are invited to:

- Watch a series of short, dynamic presentations forming an overview of creative and new media activity in Hackney, with confirmed speakers including Shoreditch Digital Bridge, Soda Creative, artists The People Speak and Melissa Bliss, Lateral and more. (A limited number of presentations slots are left -- contact us if you would like to present your work)
- Bring printed materials and laptops (WIFI provided) to informally show-and-tell between sessions.

- Enjoy drinks and light refreshments, with time to network with other creative attendees.

This event will launch a New Media Cluster in Hackney, with a facilitated discussion inviting participants to have a stake in the development of the cluster and its seed funding.

RSVP is essential. Contact heather@spacestudios.org.uk or 0208 525 4339 for more info and to register.

This event is produced by [space.media.arts] in partnership with Hackney Council. Space Media Arts is wheelchair accessible. Please contact in advance if you have any other access requirements.
